PEOPLE LIKE WEATHER

We are usually running into a fellow, now and then, who reminds us of a human iceberg. He is cold and leaves us in an indifferent way that suggests a blast of cold air. We leave no impression upon his frigid manner. We simply don't matter to him, one way or another. He has himself wrapped in a robe of cucumber coolness and cares not a straw for our warm handshake or sunny smile. He passes quickly but leaves a chilly impression. It causes us to wonder what part this sort of a man plays in the set-up of any town. In our scheme of things, do we meet a type like this to keep us from being too enthused, too gay? The iceberg passed, but it made us grateful for warm sunshine and a complete thaw.

THEY SUGGEST!

Bless science, we will get it yet! They inform us that the world is yearning for a genius to discover a process of extracting honey and sugar from flowers instead of leaving it to the bees. We are in need of a process to extract milk and butterfat from fields as are given to cows. They suggest we can use an auto that will skim over snow drifts and ride waves. The need of collecting and storing electricity from lightning and a power axe for chopping down trees, are a couple of "must haves" for us moderns. The idea of a fabricated seat for farm machines, instead of the metal ones which are not so pleasant on cold wet days, isn't such a bad idea. What next—

ON THE RECORD

Of course we don't believe that radio is on its way out, just because a man, financially interested in radio, has bought stock in a phonograph company. But we do know that sales in the latter are picking up rapidly and that people are becoming "talking machine" conscious. Many comment that you don't have to listen to "phases" for pills and beauty when listening to a phonograph record. But despite its over-advertised programs, the radio has increased the people's appreciation of good music. And as a result many people are wanting a shelf of records of the fine music they want to hear. You can select your program without turning dials, and get it exactly when you want it. The record changing machines which play forty minutes of uninterrupted music, are those most interesting to the recent buyer. There is a new kind of needle that will play about two years without change, available at low cost. The problem of static does not enter the picture. Too much advertisement is under control with the phonograph.

But there is no one in the Lake Okechobee region who would want to give up his radio, though he would like to do without radios besides music, come to us over the air. We want our radio as well as the phonograph. So they combine the two in manufacture, and the customer remains satisfied.

girls and 140 boys in the county enrolled in 4-H clubs. To be successful a club must have an enthusiastic local leader. For the lack of such a leader, Mr. Mount stated he has been unable to organize a club in Belle Glade but he has recently enlisted Lion Boys and hopes to organize a club here in the near future.

The 4-H clubs stand for head, heart, hand and health. Boys and girls of 10 to 21 years of age are eligible. They must plan and carry on some productive agricultural project such as a one-third of an acre of any crop, raising or fattening a calf or pig, a flock of chickens or a number of other possible activities. The club member must keep production records and other notes. Meetings are conducted so as to be both instructive and social.

Each year a number of the club members attend short instruction courses at Gainesville and Camp McQuarrie near Ocala. A very entertaining and instructive week is spent at the camp by many Palm Beach county boys and girls. The camp is conducted separately for boys and girls and are held at different times. Adequate supervision is provided by the State extension service staff.

All members of the Lions and their guests were served another of the famous meals prepared by Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Kirkland.
